Indigestion

IS not only a distressing complaint, of itself, but, by causing the blood to become depraved and the system enfeebled, is the parent of innumerable maladies. That Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the best cure for Indigestion, even when complicated with Liver Complaint, is proved by the following testimony from Mrs. Joseph Lake, of Brockway Centre, Mich .: -

"Liver complaint and indigestion made my life a burden and came near ending my existence. For more than four years I suffered untold agony, was reduced almost to a skeleton, and hardly reduced almost to a skeleton, and hardly had strength to drag myself about. All kinds of food distressed me, and only the most delicate could be digested at an Within the time mentioned several physicians treated me without giving relief. Nothing that I took seemed to do any permanent good until I commenced the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which has produced wonderful results. Soon after commencing to take the Sarsaparilla I could see an improvement in my rilla I could see an improvement in my condition. My appetite began to return and with it came the ability to diges: all the food taken, my strength in-proved each day, and after a few months of faithful attention to your directions, I found myself a well woman, able to attend to all household duties. The medicine has given me a new lease of life." Ayer's Sarsaparilla,

PAITRFUL TO HIS CHARGE. A Newfoundland Dog That Refused to Desert

His Little Master. A fat little German boy lay asleep on a bench in the Allegheny station, last night, with a huge Newfoundland dog stretched on the floor. The archin was fast enough in the arms of Morpheus, but the dog's eye opened very readily if any one approached his young master. The two waifs were found astray at the end of the Troy Hill line about 6 o'clock last evening. The boy chattered in German and English, and said his name was Jacob, but he couldn't say where he and the dog lived. The dog was, of course, useless, but to anybody who was up in the dog language the wagging of his tail was eloquent. The pair were conveyed to the Mayor's office, and Jacob was taken out by Captain Wilson and given his supper. The dog went right along, and his pertinacity prompted the front office people to put up an attempt to smuggle the little chap out and away from the dog. But the latter couldn't be shaken. Then some of the boys made up a collection. At midnight the boy was asleep, holding tightly to a handful of nickels, with the dog as sentinel. No one had put in an appearance in search of the pair. his name was Jacob, but he couldn't say where
